

Track 12 & 13 on the CD

New World Symphony

This is a very famous tune from the New World Symphony by Dvorak (pronounced "D-vorshark") It is a beautiful tune to play slowly. Note the dot after some of the crotchets. The dot makes a note half as long again. Note that all of the crotchets with dots after them are followed by a single quaver. Listen to this rhythm on the backing track with the melody and play it the same way.
